TITLE VII—BIENNIAL BUDGETING

SEC. 701. FINDINGS.

The Congress finds that—

- (1) the annual appropriations and budget process increasingly dominates the congressional agenda and Congress regularly fails to meet the deadlines of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974;

(2) the design of the budget process has led to repetitive and time-consuming budget votes, decreasing the time available for the systematic and programmatic oversight of Federal programs and delaying the enactment of legislation necessary to fund the Government;

(3) Congress' responsibility to improve the efficiency, economy, and effectiveness of governmental operations, evaluate programs and performance, detect and prevent poor administration, waste, or abuse in Government programs, ensure that executive policies reflect the public interest, ensure administrative compliance with legislative intent, and prevent executive encroachment on legislative authority and prerogatives is undermined by the current time-consuming and repetitive budget process;

(4) an annual budget process encourages inefficiency in the management, stability, and predictability of Federal funding, particularly for States and localities;

(5) a biennial budget process will reduce the number of budget-related votes during each Congress, enhance congressional oversight of Government operations, encourage longer time horizons in policy planning and greater stability in fiscal policy;

(6) a biennial budget process was a principal recommendation of the 1993 Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress and the Vice President's National Performance Review;

(7) since the enactment of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, more than 50 bills addressing a two-year budget cycle have been introduced, 10 biennial budget related provisions were reported by congressional committees, 7 passed either chamber and 4 were enacted; more than 40 congressional or special committee hearings addressed the issue of biennial budgeting; and the Congressional Budget Office, the Office of Management and Budget, and 5 different special task forces or joint committees of Congress have either recommended biennial budgeting or further studies of it;

(8) the adoption of a biennial budget process was recommended by President Reagan in the fiscal year 1989 budget submission, by President Bush in the fiscal year 1990 and 1991 budget submissions, and by President Clinton in the fiscal year 1995, 2000, and 2001 budget submissions; and

(9) a bipartisan majority of Members of the House of Representatives support a biennial budget process.
